Why Owner Builder Insurance is important

As an Owner Builder you take on the responsibilities normally assumed by a registered builder such as coordinating construction work, managing site safety, and supervising subcontractors. Even the slightest mishap or accident can stop your project being completed, leaving you financially vulnerable and legally liable for compensation.

Securing the right insurance cover can protect your project and everyone that works on your build site. This includes paid contractors as well as family and friends working for free just to help out.
